which will make its debut at our Court House on the evenings of Friday and Saturday, 12th and 13th of March. Their reputation and abilities are sufficient to attract large audiences. This being the fifth year of the organization's existence, (success crowning every effort), they come to us with a reputation not second to any of the kind. Their programme will be of a variety and musical nature, and of a character calculated to please all—their past experience being a sufficient guarantee of their abilities to cater to the wants of the amusement-loving public. Next week we will publish their programme in detail.

A Card.

We have received through the Post-Office a sum of money, which we have reason to believe is a token of sympathy for us in this time of our misfortune. To all who have thus or otherwise expressed their kindly feelings, we hereby tender our most hearty thanks. These evidences of true friendship we regard as in a great measure compensating us for our loss, not so much for their cash value, as for the state of feeling which they indicate. We would also remember with no less gratitude those who rendered efficient aid in saving most of our household goods from destruction.

J. MARKHAM.

Iron-ton, March 1. E. C. MARKHAM.

Major Hambrecht, U. S. Claim Inspector, left Tuesday morning, for Camden, N. J., his home. Monday night, the members of the A. V. B. B. gave him a serenade, and were assisted in the ceremony of leave-taking by a number of prominent citizens. The Major responded to the compliment in a short, neat address, which was received with cheers. After enjoying a nice little collation, set out at a moment's warning—for the serenade was a "surprise" in reality—a parting glass was drunk, and the serenaders departed. Our citizens, one and all, regret the Major's departure, but hope soon to see him with us again. He is one of the most gentlemanly and genial men we have ever known, and we do not believe he leaves behind him any but the kindest wishes for his future welfare.

THE NEW SCHOOLHOUSE.—The Board of Directors of the Iron-ton School District will shortly submit to the voters thereof a proposition to build a new schoolhouse, of which election notice will be given. As a preparatory move, the Board has purchased the two lots immediately north of the ground now occupied by the school, and when all four lots shall have been thrown into one, the children will have a commodious playground. We have not seen the plans and specifications of the proposed schoolhouse, but understand that they are such as, if followed out, will give us such a building as we need, and so soon as definite action is taken, we shall give to our readers a full description of it. We think there will be little or no opposition to the action of the Board, and it is our belief that the voters of the district will overwhelmingly endorse it, if the proposed building is such as can be put up without extravagant outlay. We want no costly "gingerbread work" about it, but there will be no grumbling for any necessary outlay made for the health, comfort and well-being of the rising generation, so far as those things come under the supervision of the Board and the tax payers.

Emigrants from the East to Texas sometimes go by way of Columbus, Ky., and Charleston, Mo. The emigrant car gets into Charleston at 5 A. M., where it is side-tracked, to await the 3 o'clock P. M. train from Cairo, which takes it to its destination. From 5 in the morning until 3 in the afternoon the emigrants are free to look about them and take in the beauties of nature in that region, and sometimes happens that the unsophisticated travelers are "taken in," too. A lot of dead-beats gathered there, as crows congregate about the newly planted cornfield—for the purpose of bunking the unsuspecting; and more than one poor emigrant, after a short season of wrestling with these devourers of the unwary, has found himself deprived of the little substance intended to give him "a start" in the land of promise. The other day the citizens of Charleston got wind of these matters, and last Wednesday night they pounced down upon the bunko men, took them, bound them, gave them each a hundred lashes, well laid on, and then gave them fifteen minutes to clear out. The bunko game down there is busted, the operators have fled, and the emigrant car no longer is beset by them. May the good people of Charleston live long and prosper!

When we read Bro. Shelton's last exhortation of James F. Allen, a few weeks since, we kinder imagined there would be blood upon the moon, and so there was and probably is yet. We take the facts of the encounter from the Charleston Sentinel:

"We learn through a perfectly reliable source that T. Jeff. Shelton, editor of the Benton Record, and James F. Allen, had an altercation on Monday last, between Benton and Morley. Allen attacked Shelton with a pole and was laying on with vengeance, when Shelton pulled a revolver and snapped it twice within a foot of Allen's breast. A bystander interfered and no blood was shed.

"Two weeks ago Allen attacked Shelton in the columns of the Commerce Dispatch, and Shelton answered him last week in a manner that caused his blood to boil. It does not look well for one man to attack another in public print and then because he gets worsted at his own game resort to the hoop-pole argument. Popular sentiment seems to be in Shelton's favor."
